QUARTERLY DISPOSAL REPORTING FOR FISCAL YEAR 2024/2025

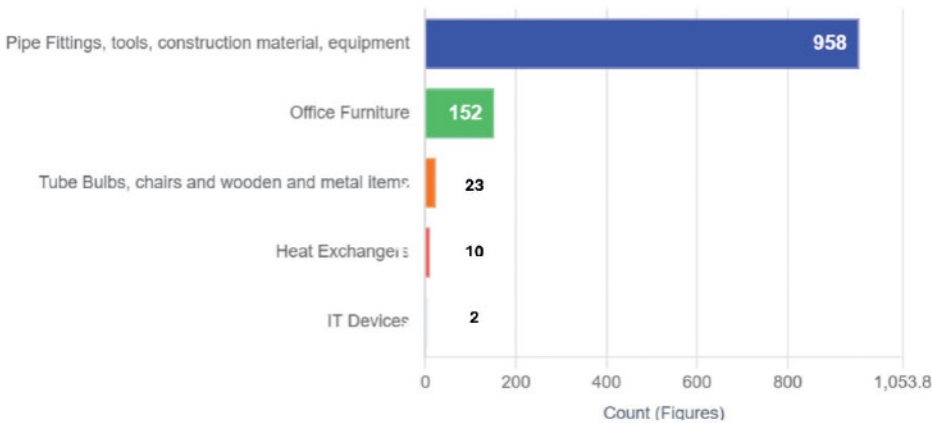

Q1-2025 Disposal Analysis

Q1-2025 Disposal Activity Analysis

A. Item Volume by Property Type (1,145 Items)

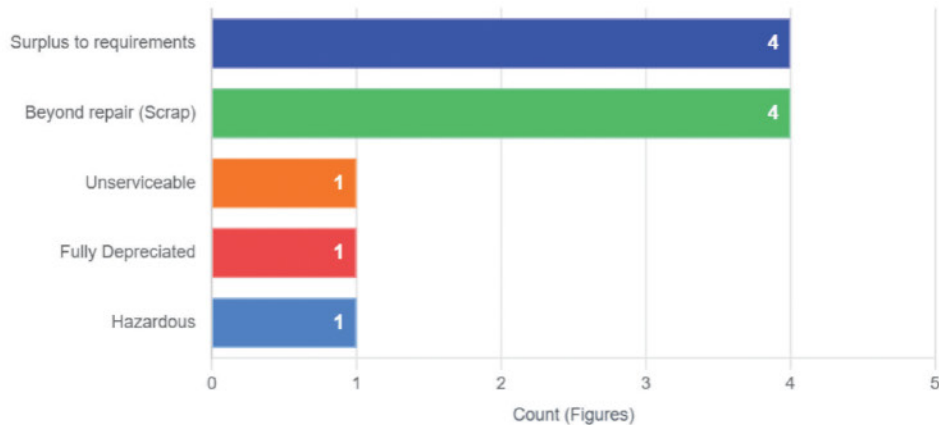

Note: Excludes the 222 tonnes of Cast Iron/Special Alloy.

Analysis of item volume and property type:

Of the 1,145 items disposed, 83.6 per cent comprised of pipe fittings, tools, construction material, and equipment. Office furniture accounted for 13.3 per cent of disposals, while IT devices represented the lowest volume segment of 0.2 per cent.

B. Disposal Rationale

Analysis of disposal rationale:

Across the 11 transactions, surplus to requirements and items deemed beyond repair but can be sold as scrap were the predominant reasons for disposal, which accounted for 72.8 per cent of all reported disposals. The remaining 27.2 per cent was split evenly among unserviceable, fully depreciated, and hazardous classifications.

C. Methods of Disposal

Analysis of disposal method:

In Q1-2025, public bodies primarily employed market-based disposal methods, with direct sale and public tender accounting for 72.7 per cent of the 11 transactions. The remaining disposals were through destroy/dump at 18.2 per cent and donation/gift at 9.1 per cent.

D. Distribution of Beneficiaries (10 Reported Instances)

Analysis of beneficiaries:

Of the 10 disposal transactions, 50 per cent were transferred to other public bodies, 20 per cent to private companies, 20 per cent to contractors and suppliers, and 10 per cent to individual members of the public; one additional transaction did not identify a beneficiary.

Q2-2025 Disposal Analysis

Q2-2025 Disposal Activity Analysis

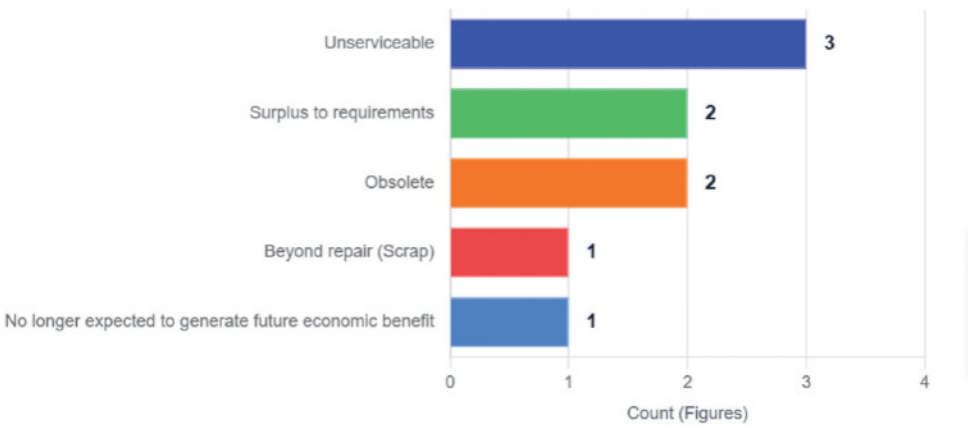

A. Item Volume by Property Type (4,365 Items)

Analysis of Item Volume and Property Type:

Of the 4,365 items disposed, roofing sheets and equipment accounted for 59.8 per cent, IT equipment and phones were 24.8 per cent, while specialized assets including hospital equipment, evaporators and air conditioning units constituted the smallest segment at 2.2 per cent.

B. Disposal Rationale

Analysis of disposal rationale:

Unserviceable assets accounted for the largest share of disposals (33.3 per cent), followed by surplus and obsolete items at 22.2 per cent each.

C. Methods of Disposal

Analysis of Disposal Method:

Market-facing disposal methods such as, direct sale and public tender collectively accounted for 66.7 per cent of all reported disposals. The remaining transactions were distributed among destroy/dump, public auction, and transfer methods, each accounting for one-third of the remaining 33.3 per cent.

D. Distribution of Beneficiaries

Analysis of beneficiaries:

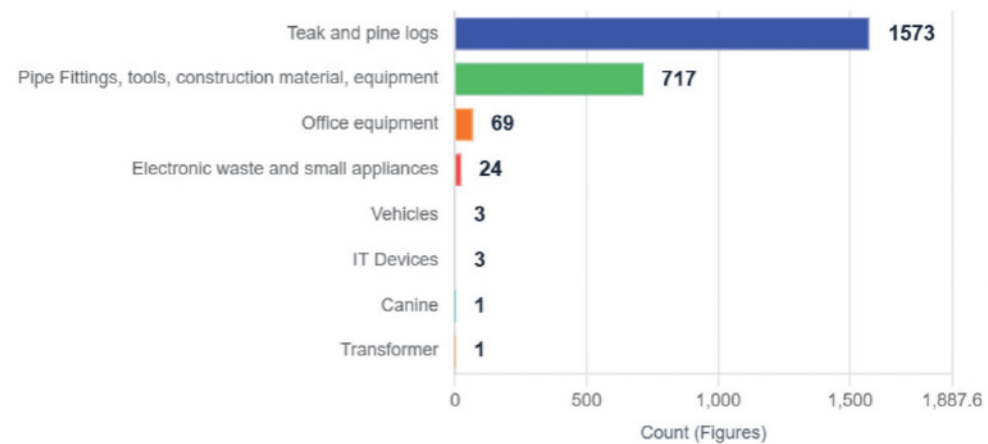

The Q2-2025 period saw a significant concentration of impact toward external stakeholders, with members of the public accounting for 66.7 per cent. Public bodies represented 16.7 per cent and the contractor/supplier sector accounted for 11.1 per cent.

Q3-2025 Disposal Analysis

Q3-2025 Disposal Activity Analysis

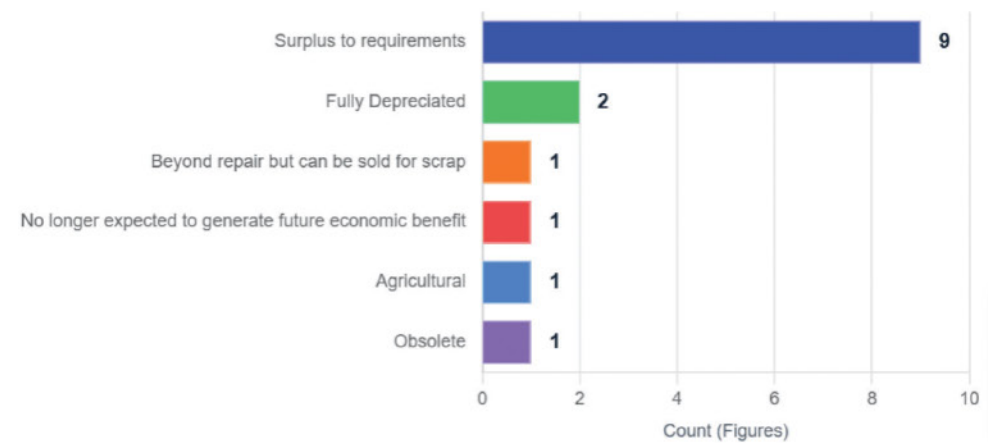

A. Item Volume by Property Type (2,391 Items)

Analysis of Item Volume and Property Type:

In Q3-2025, teak and pine logs dominated disposals which accounted for 1,573 of 2,391 items (65.8 per cent), followed by pipe fittings, tools, construction materials, and equipment at 30 per cent, with other items including vehicles, IT devices, and one canine, totalling 4.2 per cent.

B. Disposal Rationale (15 Transactions)

Analysis of disposal rationale:

Surplus to requirements was the leading disposal rationale at 60 per cent, followed by fully depreciated assets at 13.3 per cent, with remaining reasons spreading across other categories.

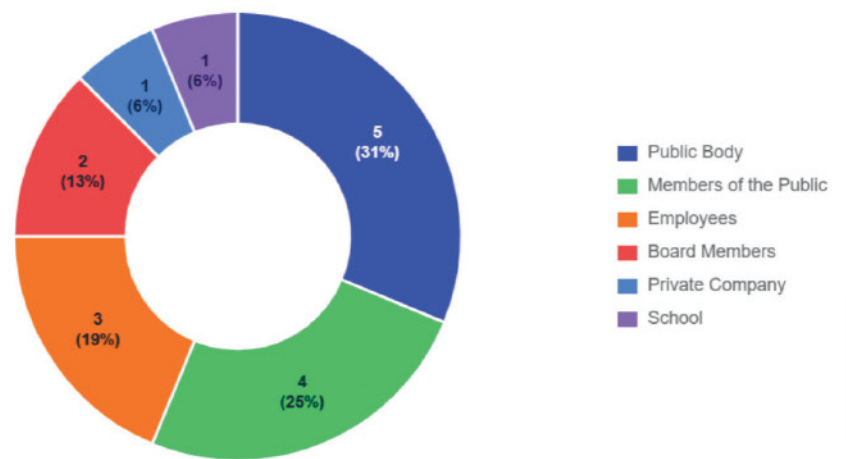

C. Methods of Disposal

Analysis of Disposal Method:

Transfer was the most used disposal method at 33.3 per cent, reflecting a preference for internal redistribution. Market-based methods—auction, public/spot sale, and sale to employees—accounted for 40 per cent, while donation/gift and recycling reflected social and environmental considerations.

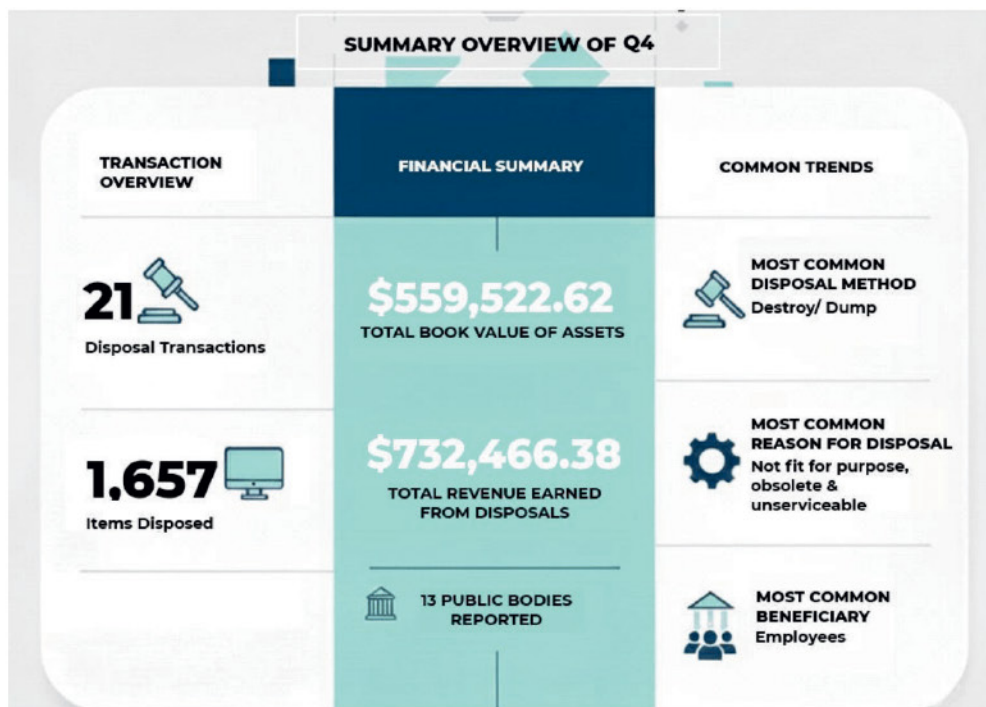

D. Distribution of Beneficiaries

Analysis of beneficiary:

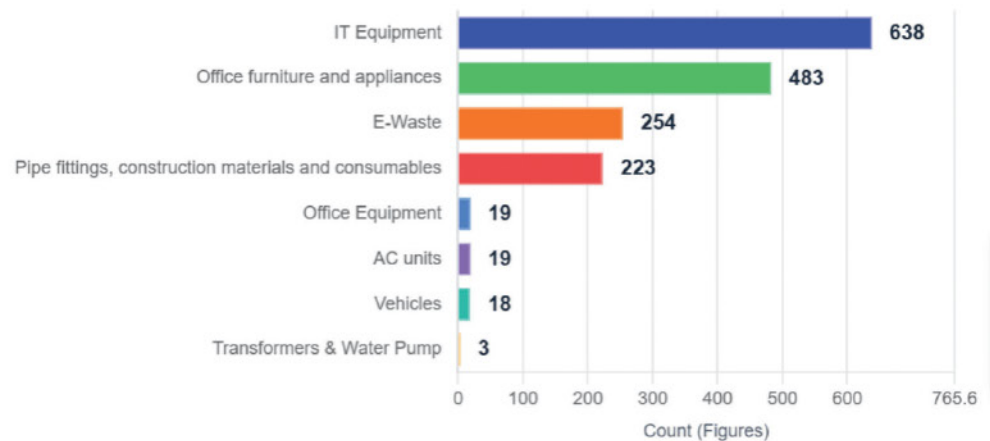

Public bodies were the largest beneficiaries, receiving 31 per cent of disposals, while external recipients—including the members of the public, employees, private companies, schools, and board members—accounted for 69 per cent.

Q4-2025 Disposal Analysis

Q4-2025 Disposal Activity Analysis

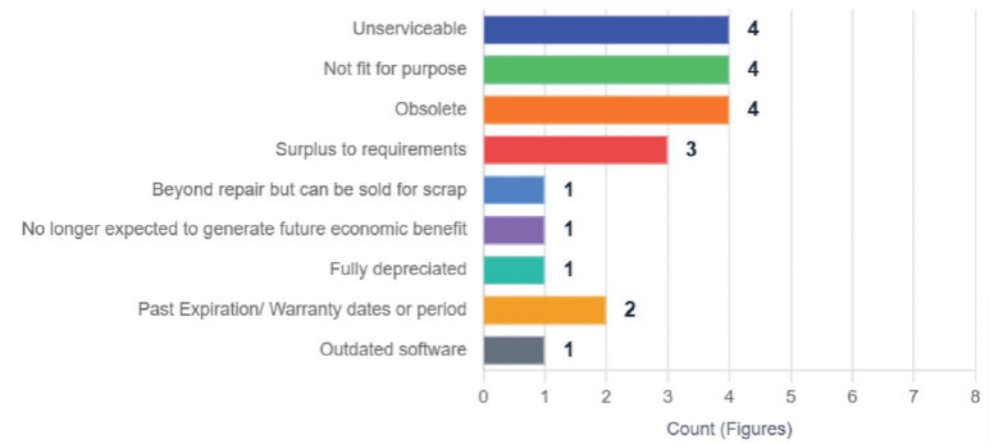

A. Item Volume by Property Type (1,657 Items)

Analysis of Item Volume and Property Type:

Of the 1,657 items disposed in Q4-2025, IT equipment accounted for 38.5 per cent, office furniture and appliances 29.1 per cent, and E-waste 15.3 per cent. All other categories, including vehicles and AC units, were 17.1 per cent.

B. Disposal Rationale

Analysis of disposal rationale:

Within Q4-2025 transactions, 21 disposal transactions accounted for unserviceable, obsolete, and not fit-for-purpose items each accounting for 19 per cent (57.1 per cent combined), followed by surplus to requirements at 14.3 per cent.

C. Methods of Disposal

Analysis of Disposal Method:

The primary method of disposal in Q4-2025 was destroy/dump, accounting for 38.9 per cent of all reported transactions, likely attributable to the items lacking usability. Market-facing methods like public tender and public/spot sale accounted for 16.7 per cent. Non-commercial transfers like donation/gift and sale to employee represented a significant 33.3 per cent of transactions.

D. Distribution of Beneficiaries

Analysis of beneficiary:

The largest share of benefits was directed internally, with employees accounting for 53 per cent of all beneficiaries while members of the public followed at 29 per cent.
